Cameron Jones leads a gypsy swing guitar trio called The Cameron Jones Trio. Gypsy swing or gypsy jazz is French or European jazz popularised by guitarist Django Reinhardt. The music performed on French acoustic steel string guitars, commonly without drums with the rhyical impetus being supplied by the guitar. The Music is rhythmic and melodically engaging and performed with energy with emotion. Cameron studied this music in Europe and have performed in various musical projects for over twenty years. He also run Australia's only gypsy jazz festival called OzManouche.

His live show is intimate, upbeat, engaging, and tailored to create an atmosphere that keeps audiences engaged with stories interspersed between the tunes to provide context and meaning.
